

Press Release

Mr. Wilson's leadership class at oilfields High School has been striving towards repairing bikes to donate to the local family based care society center. We have done this to give back to our community because it has done so much for us. We care so much about our community's happiness and welfare that we think the children at the eagle house would feel more at home if they had more freedom and more things to do, such as riding bikes. We have been working on the bike for one month. While we have been working on the bike we have learned new leadership skills, we have also gotten to know people in our group better. Doing this bike not only helped the people at eagle house, but also helped us expand our leadership skills. After doing this project we feel that we have much more things available to us, so we feel grateful to give back. Our time has been well spent on this project.
